Experience the Other Side of Goa

There are two sides to Goa. One is the last-minute getaway with its lively atmosphere and fun-filled beaches. The other is characterized by lush landscapes, peaceful neighborhoods, historic churches and homes, and verdant farmlands. It is this serene, languid setting that is home to Mansão Curtorim.

Come experience the susegad life and let relaxation take over.

A Perfect Blend of Exploration and Relaxation

CGH Earth Mansão Curtorim is a piece of history brought to life. A 223-year-old heritage mansion nestled in a quiet corner of a South Goan village, it offers you an authentic Goan retreat.

Unwind on pristine beaches, delve into the past by exploring historic churches and landmarks, and revel in birdwatching along the peaceful Zuari River.

Meticulously restored by CGH Earth with special attention to preserving its original charm and spirit, the serenity and unhurried vibe of Mansão Curtorim is the perfect antidote to the pace of modern life.

An Inside-Outside View of Mansão Curtorim

A single-storey mansion, Mansão Curtorim spans approximately 7,000 square feet. It includes a charming foyer, a welcoming living room, a dining room with a staircase leading to a mezzanine, six well-appointed bedrooms, a cosy library lounge, and a spacious kitchen. Balconies and galleries offer stunning views, making every moment picture perfect. A veranda gracefully encircles the house and its spacious courtyard.

Wooden roofs and high ceilings lend an airy elegance to the space. The mansion's picturesque lawn overlooks a serene water body, creating a haven for countless bird species and a paradise for birders.

A harmonious blend of Goan-Portuguese architecture and contemporary design, Mansão Curtorim is crafted for the discerning traveler.

A Taste of Authentic Goa

Goan cuisine is a harmonious blend of rice, local vegetables, seafood, coconut, meats, and spices, all shaped by centuries of cultural exchange. From the enticing aroma of rava-fried fish to the rich flavor of pork vindaloo, every dish at Mansão Curtorim is a testament to Goa's diverse culinary heritage. The legacy of Portuguese and Sultanate rule is reflected in dishes like Xacuti, a rich curry that blends Konkani and Portuguese culinary traditions.

Embark on a Goan food trail with local specialties like Bebinca, Choris Pav, and Khatkhatem.

The dining area complements the cuisine, comfortably seating ten guests and setting the scene for unforgettable meals. The elegant décor and furnishings elevate the dining experience.

At Mansão Curtorim, each meal is a celebration of Goa's vibrant culinary history. It's a place where tradition and innovation share the same plate.

About Curtorim Village

Nestled among rolling hills and lush greenery, Curtorim is a tranquil village adorned with verdant paddy fields and swaying coconut palm groves.

A focal point of the village's rich cultural heritage is the historic Church of St. Alex, originally constructed in 1597 and rebuilt in 1647.

Curtorim is also known for its abundant water bodies. Along with the Zuari River, they add to the village's picturesque charm.
