Mahabalipuram

Stone and sea come together in a melody, a sweet song that has echoed through the centuries.

This is Mahabalipuram, a UNESCO World Heritage Site known for its storied past, intricate stone-cut temples, and breathtaking beach. Its rock-cut art, carvings, and monoliths stand as graceful companions to the rhythm of the waves. Time stands still by the sea, brimming with culture and history. Stories carved in stone and sunrises painted along the shore make it the perfect retreat for those seeking a holiday that blends heritage with serenity.

Whether you come to ride the surf, explore its cultural richness, or simply unwind, Mahabalipuram offers a perfect retreat, far from the clamour of commercialisation.

Mahabalipuram

A stone's throw from the beach, Isai Karai takes its name from the sea's musical rhythm as the waves meet the shore. Its walls echo heritage and history, while its amenities are designed for ultimate comfort. Surrounded by tropical fruit trees, the bungalow features a three-bedroom main building and a two-bedroom unit perfect for families or groups seeking a multi-room stay.

Relax by the pool and sip a drink at the poolside while enjoying an intimate BBQ dinner. Fresh, locally sourced seafood is the highlight of every meal here.

Just a short drive from Chennai and Pondicherry, Isai Karai is ideal for a weekend getaway.

Cuisine

Dining at Isai Karai Bungalow features the flavors of the sea and Tamil heritage. Fresh, local produce and coastal flavours come together in dishes that are simply soulful and deeply rooted in place.

Comforting and aromatic, the home-style Tamil cuisine offers a true taste of the region's culinary soul.

Freshly caught seafood, grilled and seasoned to perfection, bring out the bold character of the Mahabalipuram coast.

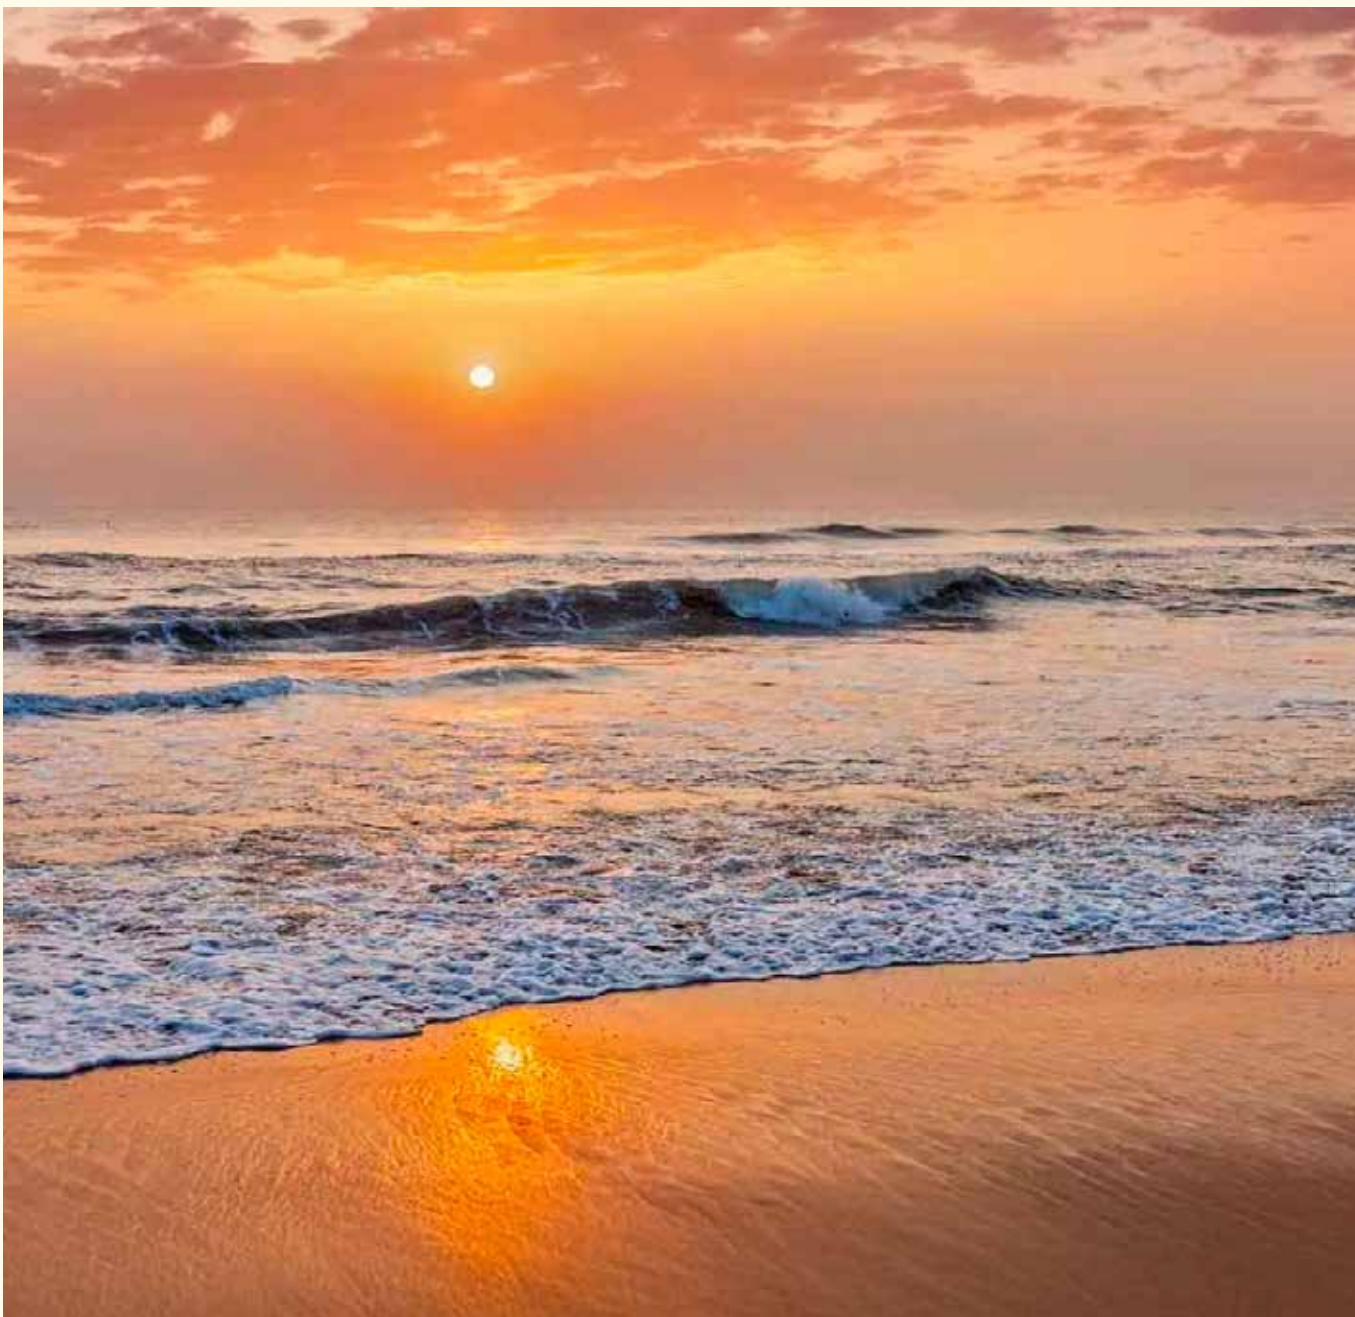

For those seeking familiar flavours, a curated selection of freshly made Indian and international dishes.
